Near Death BY SMOTHERING
But Husband, With Aid of Cardui, Effects Her Deliverance.

Draper, N. C.—Mrs. Helen Dalton, of this place, says: "I suffered for years, with pains in my left side, and would often almost smother to death. Medicines patched me up for awhile but then I would get worse again. Finally, my husband decided he wanted me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, so he bought me a bottle and I began using it. It did me more good than all the medicines I had taken."

I have induced many of my friends to try Cardui, and they all say they have been benefited by its use. There never has been, and never will be, a medicine to compare with Cardui. I believe it is a good medicine for all womanly troubles."

For over 50 years, Cardui has been relieving woman's sufferings and building weak women up to health and strength. If you are a woman, give it a fair trial. It should surely help you, as it has millions others.

REWARD FOR THE CAPTURE OF MURDERERS

BRUTAL CRIME AT SELIGMAN AROUSES OFFICIALS TO TAKE STRENUOUS MEASURES

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Following the return of Sheriff Charles C. Keeler from Seligman, the scene of the brutal murder of John Drain late last week, officials decided to offer a reward of $1,000 for a clue leading to the arrest and conviction of the man or men perpetrated the crime, which up to date, has baffled every effort of the officers. The return of the sheriff from Seligman brought some additional details of the murder, which is declared to have been one of the most brutal in the history of Yavapai county.

Of the $1,000 offered as a reward, the board of supervisors appropriated $500, and so deeply engrossed in the case is Sheriff Keeler that he has offered an additional $250, the remaining $250 being offered by Michael McBride, former postmaster and wealthy resident of Seligman.

An old hat was found on the floor, but no identification as to its owner has been made or appears likely to be made. Robbery was evidently the motive, the sum of $50 in silver and eighteen revolvers comprising the loss.

Drain was a watchman in the establishment conducted by Postmaster Pitts as a joint mercantile store and postoffice. The coroner's inquest and sheriff's investigation showed that he had probably just entered the building, early in the evening, preparatory to assuming his watch for the night, when he was assaulted from behind. Two deep stab wounds in the back were sufficient to cause death, but it is believed that Drain died from a fractured skull caused by the stroke of a heavy weapon.

The body was found upon the floor near the front entrance when Postmaster Pitts opened his place of business the next morning. Aside from the pool of blood around the head, there were blood stains along the floor and bloody finger print stains around the rear door where the murderer or murderers made their escape.

Drain probably never received a chance to fight for his life. The murderers evidently bent upon ridding the safe and show cases of their contents, were apparently surprised by the sudden intrusion of the watchman. Laying low until he had entered the establishment and closed the door behind him, it is thought they leaped suddenly from cover and perpetrated the fatal assault. The fact that both a knife, or stiletto, and a club were used leads the officials to believe that at least two men were engaged in the murder.

The murderers entered the establishment through a transome in the rear of the store and left through a side door which was bolted on the inside. They had ample opportunity to escape, the deed having been committed early in the evening, not being discovered until the next morning.

Drain was about sixty years of age and well known in Seligman. The murder aroused the entire vicinity to a pitch bordering upon frenzy, and the organization of searching posses was for a time talked of. However, this idea was abandoned for it was deemed certain that the murderers had taken either an east or west bound train immediately after committing the deed.

Man Killed Some Time Since.
Several months ago, Mr. McBride, at that time postmaster, shot and killed a man named Edwards, who threatened to break in his door if not opened. The bullet went through the door and killed Edwards almost instantly. McBride was exonerated at a hearing by the county attorney. More recently a gang of railroad thieves worked successfully in rifling establishments at both Kingman and Ash Fork, both located on the main line of the Santa Fe, of valuable stocks of silk and revolvers.

GROOM CREEK IS ON MAP AS RESORT

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

"Groom Creek, as a popular summer resort of the future, is assured," said J. W. Montgomery, of Phoenix yesterday. This year was the initial one in drawing a colony of over seventy people, and after three months' of a tent town at the W. N. Kelly place, the last sojourner, Mr. Montgomery folded his paraphernalia and left for home yesterday. "I was the pathfinder and incidentally am the last to leave," he said. "Next season there will be over 150 to enjoy the recreation of the pines, the beautiful scenery, and above everything else the finest climate on this earth."

One thing that will affect the future of that locality, as a resort, is the building of the north and south highway. With that accomplished, and Groom creek placed on a direct line of communication with Phoenix, many of the visitors stated several hundred would not only make regular trips north during the summer but that many bungalows would be erected. The distance to Phoenix over this route would be less than ninety miles, as against 150 miles by way of Wickenburg.

OLD TIMER DIES.
(From Tuesday's Daily.)

John G. Feller, well known in this city, passed away Friday at the County Hospital after a three days' illness, due to a general breakdown in health. He was aged about 75 years and came to Prescott over a third of a century ago, having been naturalized as a citizen in 1881. He was a native of Switzerland.

PHOENICIANS PLEASED WITH FIRST SUMMER OUTING; WILL COME STRONG NEXT YEAR

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

"Groom Creek, as a popular summer resort of the future, is assured," said J. W. Montgomery, of Phoenix yesterday. (STANDARDIZED)

For All Live Stock

EASY AND SAFE TO USE.

KILLS LICE, TICKS, FLEAS, MITES. CURES MANGE, SCAB, RINGWORM, SCRATCHES, ETC. DESTROYS DISEASE GERMS AND DRIVES AWAY FLIES.

NON-IRRITATING. EFFECTIVE. INEXPENSIVE.

YOU can't afford to let lice, ticks, fleas and mites eat your stock alive. Get a supply of KRESO DIP and follow directions. It will put an end to the parasites and give the stock a chance to thrive and put on flesh. Use it in barns, hog pens, chicken houses and dog kennels--any place where there are vermin.

KRESO DIP is a coal tar product. It mixes readily with water. It does not burn or irritate like carbolic acid. It does not blister or take the hair off like kerosene. It costs less and does more than any of these. You can't make a better investment than to buy some Kreso Dip to kill lice, ticks, mites and fleas and prevent disease by destroying the germs.

One gallon of KRESO DIP makes 60 to 75 gallons when mixed with water. Each lot is STANDARDIZED by the manufacturers, therefore always the same.
